THE CONVENTION OVER

man Richardson. He expressed his thanks to the States of Washington and Idaho, which had championed his cause, and announced his withdrawal from the race.

The roll call for the first ballot was then begun. The announcement of Alabama that it had nineteen votes for Hill was received with a roar of applause. "Four for Hill from Florida," called forth another yell of applause. "Illinois," shouted the clerk, and back came the cry, "Forty-eight for Stevenson," and the Stevenson enthusiasm was unobscured in good earnest, and it rose higher still when Iowa and Kansas cast their full votes for him. Louisiana was the next to go for Hill, her delegation giving him the entire vote of 16.

Michigan, which had all along strongly approved of Towne, gave him but five votes, the remainder going to Stevenson. The shouts from Missouri, "One for Hogg, of Texas," called forth loud laughter and applause. New Jersey's twenty votes for Hill called forth another ripple of cheers, and then came "New York." The reply, "New York casts her entire seventy-two votes for the Hon. D. B. Hill," increased the ripple to a wave of applause.

Pennsylvania's sixty-four votes for Stevenson, caused the adherents of the Illinois man to shout until the rafters rung.

The Hill people cheered wildly when Tennessee went solid for the New York man, and the Stevenson people answered their cheer when Texas came to their man.

CHANGE TO STEVENSON.

Tennessee was up soon as the vote from Hawaii had been announced, and declared that it changed its vote for Stevenson.

The convention recognized the significance of the action, and cheer after cheer went up. Stevenson was nominated now without question, and all over the hall chairmen of delegations were on their feet shouting and waving their arms in the effort to secure recognition from the chair in order to change their votes.

Washington was the first to secure the privilege, and the tellers' cry "Washington changes its entire vote to Stevenson" provoked wild enthusiasm. The cheering became so loud that it was almost impossible to catch the changes as the tellers called them out.

After Washington came North Carolina, and then John L. Shea, of New York, managed to make his voice heard as he called out: "New York changes her entire vote from Hill to Stevenson." This simply pulled out the plug and broke in both ends and all the staves at one time, and the roar that went up was deafening. Then in rapid succession, the following States changed their votes to Stevenson in the order given: California, North Dakota, Nebraska, Hawaii, Florida, South Dakota, Montana, Connecticut. After that they all made a rush for the coming candidate. The cheering while the first changes were being made was enthusiastic in the extreme. A procession was formed to march around the hall, but the long session that had preceded the nomination of Stevenson and the exciting scenes of yesterday had worn the delegates and the parade was short in length, and still shorter as to its line of march, and the delegates confined themselves for the most part in cheering.

The vote of the candidates before any changes were made were as follows:

THE BALLOT.

As soon as quiet was restored, J. Milton Turner, a prominent negro of Missouri, the chairman of the convention of Afro-Americans, which only recently nominated Mr. Bryan for President, was invited to the platform, and briefly addressed the convention.

Judge Gray, of Texas, chairman of the committee on credentials, announced that the contesting delegations from the District of Columbia, Indian Territory and the Territory of Oklahoma each had been given half vote for the districts they represented.

However, as these delegations had been unable to effect a proper organization on account of internal differences, Judge Gray moved that the matter of the election of a National Committee for these districts be referred back to the Democracy of the district. The motion prevailed, but subsequently on motion of Chairman Jones, of the Committee on Credentials, was reconsidered and laid on the table.

The usual formal resolutions of thanks to Kansas City and to the officers of the convention were adopted and the greatest confusion and then, at 3:21, on motion of Chairman Jones, the National Democratic Convention of 1900 adjourned.

Stevenson Hears the News

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

Minneapolis, July 6.—The news of his nomination at Kansas City was given to Adlai E. Stevenson at the summer cottage of his son-in-law, Rev. M. D. Harlan, at Lake Minnetonka, by the Associated Press representative. Said Mr. Stevenson: "This comes as a great surprise to me. I was not a candidate at any time, and never expected to be nominated. But, of course, I shall accept the call of my party. I endorse the platform? Of course I shall. How else could I accept? I believe the Democrats generally will support the ticket. I had expected to do some campaigning anyway, but now I shall do a great deal more."

CAYNOR AND GREEN CASES.

HEARING BEGUN IN THE FAMOUS CARTER-SAVANNAH RIVER FRAUDS.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

New York, July 6.—The hearing in the case of John P. W. T., and E. H. Gaynor, and B. D. Green, indicted for alleged conspiracy in connection with former Captain Oberlin M. Carter, in private harbor work in Savannah harbor, was begun before United States Commissioner Shields to-day. The case had been before Judge Addison Brown, in the United States District Court, on a motion for a warrant to remove the defendants from here to the jurisdiction of the court for the Southern District of Georgia for trial. The motion was denied, and the case set back to Commissioner Shields to be heard to-day. Charles B. Goodyear, of Brunswick, Ga., was the first witness. He said that he was chairman of the committee of the Brunswick, Ga., Board of Trade, which was trying in 1891 to dredge the harbor. Mr. Goodyear said that he had a contract with the government in 1892 for the work and that Captain Carter was detailed to make the survey. He had gone to see Captain Carter, he said, to learn the result of the survey. He told me in a private conversation that no justice was ever said, Mr. Goodyear, that he was in view another system for digging out the bar.

The witness said that Captain Carter said he had a system under which he could get the work done if an inspection could be had, and he told the witness that he would abandon the work and go to Washington to get an appropriation for jetties that he (Carter) would pay his expenses, pay him for the work he had done and give him one-third of the profits accruing from the contract.

Mr. Goodyear said that he had nothing to do with the original appropriation for the work in question, but under an amendment he had received $250,000 as his full quota for the work performed. He admitted that none of the plans proposed for the improvement of the harbor were ever consummated, and that no justice was ever had. Later the witness declared, "What little I had in the world is on the bar at the bottom of that harbor, and I will have to get it back." The witness said that Carter told him that the profits accruing from the proposed contracts would be divided in three parts, two parts for him (the witness), and one part for Carter. William H. Venable, of Atlanta, Ga., was the next witness and he said that he was in the granite business in 1894, and that he had made an agreement through the instance of Captain Carter with John and E. H. Gaynor to sell them stone if they got the Government contract. The proceedings were then adjourned until to-morrow.

Savannah, Ga., July 6.—John Morris, John O'Gorman and D. K. Galloway, keepers of the personal ledgers in three banks here, have been served with subpoenas to appear before United States Commissioner Shields in New York July 11 and give testimony in the case of B. D. Greene and the Gaynors, who are fighting to keep from coming to Georgia to answer an indictment for conspiracy in connection with the Savannah river frauds.

It was in these banks that ex-Captain Oberlin M. Carter made deposits, and the United States District Attorney wishes to use the testimony of the personal bookkeepers to prove this fact.

One of the banks has demurred at sending their personal bookkeeper with the bank's books without the jurisdiction of the court, and the men are indicted. Further resistance will likely be made by the banks.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

MR. BRYAN UNABLE AS YET TO OUTLINE HIS PROGRAM.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

Lincoln, Neb., July 6.—The plan of campaign of the Democratic National Committee and its nominee for President are yet to be arranged. Mr. Bryan reiterated to-day what he has said before, that he was unable to outline his program in the slightest way. Nor was he able to say when a conference would be held in the matter. Mr. Bryan had a number of callers to-day, all coming to extend congratulations and express their interest over his nomination. There was more testimony of the struggle for second place on the ticket than in Mr. Bryan's nomination. When the bulletin came announcing the selection of Adlai E. Stevenson, Mr. Bryan expressed his pleasure and soon after declined the following:

Mr. Stevenson is an excellent man for the place. He supported the ticket in 1896, and can defend the platform of 1900. Towne would have strengthened the ticket in the States where there was fusion between the Democrats, Populists and Silver Republicans, but the support given Mr. Stevenson at the convention thought Mr. Stevenson the more available man. The choice has fallen upon one who is every respect worthy of the position."

Mr. Bryan then sent the following message: "Lincoln, Neb., July 6. Hon. Adlai Stevenson, Bloomington, Ill.: Accept congratulations upon your nomination. It was a deserved recognition of party service."

W. J. BRYAN.

All through the day telegrams of congratulations poured in on the Presidential candidate.

Mr. Bryan definitely decided not to go to Kansas City to-day after he had a conversation over the telephone with members of the National Committee at Kansas City. The pressure to have him attend and make a speech to the convention as a fitting climax was unusually strong, but Mr. Bryan has himself steadily advised against it. He finally brought around the Democratic managers to his way of thinking.

Mr. Bryan this evening received the following telegram: "Minnetonka Beach, July 6.—Accept my congratulations upon your unanimous nomination."

"ADLAI STEVENSON."

Mr. Bryan said he expected a number of visitors, some prominent in the councils of the Democratic party, beginning to-morrow and continuing next week. He would not specify who they were. All Lincoln is expecting a crowd from Kansas City with the adjournment of the convention, and preparations are already going forward for some sort of a local demonstration.
